/ SUMMARY

Experienced full-stack developer with over 8 years of expertise in completing MERN and Next.js projects.

My problem-solving skills enable me to provide solutions throughout the entire project lifecycle, from conceptualization to deployment.

I have successfully integrated various third-party APIs, including payment gateways, authentication services, email systems, AI technologies, and UI libraries, as well as implemented JavaScript frameworks within PHP and Python frameworks such as Laravel and Django.

In response to the growing prominence of AI technology, I am dedicated to enhancing my skills as an AI developer.
